EDMONTON BULLETIN, OCTOBER 27th, 1894

ASSEMBLY ELECTIONS.
The general elections to the Northwest assembly will take place on October 31st, and an active campaign is now being carried on in many constituencies of the Territories. As there are no party divisions in the Territorial assembly nor at the present time any division on important public questions, the issues before the electors are largely personal, or appear to be so. This is not the case however to the extent to which it appears. It is not altogether a question of whether this that or the other candidate is the most pleasant fellow to meet or has the best gift of expressing his ideas. The main question is what stand is the candidate likely to take on the various public questions that may or must or should come up in the assembly regarding which, there being no party leadership or guidance, he must depend on his own judgment for his vote? It is the privilege of every member to bring forward such measures as he may please. It is for the electors of each constituency to decide now what are the measures they desire to have brought forward and then elect the men who can best be depended upon to bring forward and successfully push those measures. In the wide range of subjects which are dealt with by the assembly the interests of the people are touched in many important points. It is for the people to see that they are represented by men who will protect the general interests against the aggrandizement of classes or individuals and whose vote can always be depended upon to assist in such apportionment of the public monies as will be to the best advantage of the Territories. At the preceding election the important question before the electors was as to the right of the majority of the Assembly to control the public affairs of the Territories. That question is now settled, but it was only settled by the representatives of the people taking a firm stand upon it and risking their political existence upon the propriety of the stand they took. Like questions may or indeed must arise in the future in the development of government in the Territories and their decision in favor of the public right will depend upon the sound judgment of the representatives and their willingness to risk their positions for the sake of their principles. Any man who is not ready to do this can scarcely be considered a suitable representative no matter what his abilities are or how satisfactory his professions.

The importance of the work that is to be done by the Northwest assembly not only in transacting the business of these vast Territories as it arises, but in giving a direction to future legislation and administration, as the work that is now being done necessarily does, calls for the best efforts of the best men the people of the Territories can select at the approaching elections and require that the principles of the men shall be well known and their characters such that they can be depended upon to back up their principles with their votes in all emergencies.

TO THE ELECTORS OF EDMONTON, GENTLEMEN.
Having been accorded the honor of representing the Edmonton district in the Northwest assembly during its past two terms, I take the liberty of offering myself as a candidate at the approaching general elections. Most of you no doubt are aware of the course which I have taken on the various matters which have come up for the consideration of the assembly during the period in which I have been your representative. I ask you to judge of what I will do in the future by what I have done in the past, and if that course is such as you believe to be in the best interests of the district and of the Territories I respectfully ask for your support and votes at the forthcoming election.

Since the elections of 1888 the question of the right of the Territorial assembly to control the Territorial finances and to administer the affairs of the Territories subject only to the will of the majority of the assembly has been fought out and definitely settled in favor of the assembly. There still remains the question of securing a definite and adequate yearly allowance or subsidy from the Dominion parliament for carrying on the government of the Territories, in place of the yearly vote now given which may be increased or decreased without regard to the arrangements of the Territorial government or the necessities of the Territories. It is absolutely necessary that the finances of the Territories should be placed on some more permanent footing before they can be administered to the best advantage of the people of the Territories and according to their requirements.

The action of the assembly in assimilating the school system of the Territories to that of Ontario with a view of increasing efficiency and decreasing expense received my support. It is to be regretted that this change was not effected without certain friction and complaints. In regard to this I may say that while I believe the first consideration should be the efficiency of the schools, it has always been my desire and effort to avoid unfairness or giving cause of complaint where it could reasonably be avoided.

The adoption of a liquor license law for the Territories was opposed by me. Believing the liquor traffic to be an evil I am compelled to vote against its being licensed. As long as the traffic is licensed I believe that it should be confined strictly to necessary and reputable hotels, and such wholesale establishments as may be reasonably necessary to supply those hotels.

In the matter of expenditures on public works I have supported the system of an equal division of the public works money amongst the various constituencies, as being a system that gave every member a direct interest in keeping down other expenditures with a view of increasing the amount available for public works in his district; and also as a system which left every member free to vote for every measure that came up on its merits without the possibility of pressure being brought to bear upon him by the offer of money for expenditure in his constituency. Chiefly as a result of that system we have a larger proportion of our total revenue returned direct to the people in aid to schools and in public works than in any of the provinces, and have made more rapid progress towards constitutional government than would have been possible otherwise. No doubt the advancement of the Territories will make changes in the details of this system of expenditure necessary, but I believe the principle is still sound as applied to the Territories.

I regret that a serious illness since my return from Regina has hitherto prevented me from entering upon a canvass of the constituency. I hope soon to be able however to announce a series of meetings at which I may meet the electors and discuss more fully the important questions involved in this election, as well as my own course as your representative. In the meantime I take the liberty of asking you to reserve the promise of your support.

Respectfully yours,
FRANK OLIVER.

IN MEMORIAM
Of Jennie Goodridge, eldest daughter of Mr. James Goodridge, who died at Calgary, September 25th, 1894. The following stanzas are dedicated by her school friend, EVA FOSTER.

You mourn I know, dear friends,
For your dear Jennie who has gone;
But her spirit rests in the home of the blest,
The land we may reach ere long.

Her earthly robes you may lay aside,
She will need them never more,
For a robe of white, and a crown of light
She wears on a happier shore.

Her bright face we will see no more,
Never kiss her youthful brow;
Never hear her sweet voice sing,
For she sings with angels now.

From a world of care and many a snare,
Your dear Jennie has escaped,
To the mansions above where all is love,
For ever from sin unscathed.

Dear sweet Jennie so loving and kind,
The pride of all who knew her,
Joy of her home so pure and true,
But how sad. Oh! how sad to part.

'Tis hard to say "Thy will be done,"
To give up those we love,
But dry your eyes and trust in Him;
Who lives in heaven above.

Dear friends all a warning take,
For death still hovers nigh;
We know not when our time shall come,
When we too shall say good-bye.

EVA FOSTER.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Winnipeg Free Press has dropped its evening edition and prints a 2c News Bulletin.

A fall of snow occurred at Winnipeg last Tuesday, Oct. 2nd, and is said to be the earliest fall since 1880.

Alex. Lucas and A. L. Sifton offer themselves as candidates for the representation of West Calgary in the Northwest assembly.

The results of the recent expedition to Polar regions prove that north of 75 degs. the ice over the whole surface averages 6,000 feet in thickness.

A very wise clause in the decree relative to the season's shooting in France forbids the destruction, capture or sale of any birds less in size than the quail. The small birds are the farmer's best friends, and hitherto they have been ruthlessly slaughtered by amateur sportsmen. In one department alone 1,146,000 were killed last season. Electric snares are amongst the latest forms of destruction.

The Calgary correspondent to the Free Press says: Large quantities of coal are making their way round town these days. Edmonton coal sells for $5.75 per ton. Kneehill coal is selling from $6 per ton upwards. Both are good soft coals and have many friends, and the old reliable Galt coal will have to fight to keep its place. Some are using the Kneehill coal for furnaces. Up to the present the anthracite variety was supposed to have a monopoly in that direction.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Daniel Campbell, an ex-Canadian postmaster and legislator, was arrested here to-day charged with embezzlement. He was found working as a hostler. Campbell it is alleged, left Whitewood, Assiniboia, Canada, where he was postmaster, two years ago, taking with him something over $800 of the government's money. He sent his wife and daughter to England and he came to Chicago, where he has been living ever since, working at odd jobs. A few days ago Campbell registered a letter to his wife in England, giving his correct name and address. It was through this that he was discovered.

"Fischwurst" is the latest innovation on the food supply of Great Britain. It is a new discovery of the Germans, and is a sausage composed of fish grated fine, and mixed with herbs and fat. For years past millions of tons of fish have been wasted in England because the market could not be reached quick enough or because the middlemen deliberately destroyed it to keep up prices. The new discovery in the way of food, however, will afford a market for all the fish brought into the country, or caught in the domestic rivers, while at the same time it will place a cheap and at the same time healthy addition to the food supply at the command of the poor.

The Grand Rapids on the Athabasca river were thus described by Mrs. Emma Shaw Coleclough to a Free Press reporter who interviewed her last week on her recent trip to the Arctic: "The Grand Rapids are as striking and impressive as Lachine. Though they have not as great a volume of water, there is the same strong current dashing against huge rocks. At the approach to the rapids, lies a small island, about two-thirds of a mile in length, where the freight is landed. Often, too, delays occur, and the voyagers camp here. On the way south Mrs. Coleclough spent several days at this point. Beyond Grand Rapids is a succession of smaller rapids continuing for ninety miles. It did not seem to dawn on the lady traveller as she talked of the trip, that in shooting these rapids she had gone through what some persons would designate and embellish as wild adventures."

Joseph Murray, fish commissioner for Alaska, who has just returned from a trip to that country says: "Unless some steps are taken, there will shortly be no fur-bearing animals in Alaska. The adventurers who flock in there are rapidly exterminating the animals, and the companies who are earning salmon are no better. The laws need enforcement, and the government should have plenty of agents there to see that they are enforced. Fox skins range in value from $10 to $200. A party goes on an island with a supply of strychnine. Bait is poisoned and the foxes eat it. They are then skinned, and a stake is made. The carcasses are eaten by crows, and the birds die. Foxes that missed the poisoned bait eat the poisoned birds, and in a short time there is not a fox on the island. The seal fisheries are fast playing out. Five years ago there was no trouble in getting 100,000 skins. This year, though allowed to take 20,000 skins, the company succeeded in getting about 16,000. The salmon fishers spread their nets at the mouths of the rivers up which the fish endeavor to go in order to spawn. Every one is taken, and as a result there are no young fish. Unless something is done soon Alaska, instead of being a source of revenue to the government, will be unable to support even its native population."

RESOLUTION OF CONDOLENCE.
The following is a copy of a resolution passed by the Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church at its last regular meeting.
DEAR MRS. GOODRIDGE.
"Our hearts were touched with sorrow when we received the tidings of the great loss sustained by you in the removal of your beloved Jennie from the family circle by the hand of Him who is too wise to err and too loving to be unkind. His words to us under such circumstances are 'What I do thou knowest not now; but thou shalt know hereafter.'"
"And as far as human sympathy can go towards assisting you in carrying the burden of your grief we extend it to you and yours in this your hour of trial. We know how the heart in such seasons cries out with the Psalmist, 'Give us help from trouble; for vain is the help of man.' And our sincere desire and prayer of sympathy is that you may experience the words of the Psalm, 'God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.'"
